Equestrian Labyrinth
TLS Labyrinth Gathering
New Harmony, Indiana

New issue of LNN Newsletter

This issue includes information about Equestrian Labyrinths, Pumpkin Labyrinths, Maypole Dancing & more. People from the Northwest who attended the TLS Gathering in New Harmony, Indiana have written about their experiences. There were so many choices that each person's experience was different. So, you can read about the event from several different perspectives.

Be aware: This is a large file with lots of pictures, so takes a while to download. I've worked hard reducing the file size, but this is as small as we can get it. It's worth the wait. Enjoy!

Christmas Shopping Ideas for the Labyrinth Enthusiasts on your list

Message from The Labyrinth Society:

Remember, if you are making purchases online for the holidays, please shop Amazon.com for books, electronics, gifts — anything! — and a portion of your purchase will be sent to the Labyrinth Society! All you have to do is click on any of the Shop Amazon.com links on the TLS website, and purchase your merchandise as you normally would. Or simply click on the link in this email.

You can also shop Cafe Press for Labyrinth Society Merchandise for a wide variety of quality products ranging from clothing and mugs to stickers and note cards.

Online rerun and podcasts are now available for the OPB radio interview with Eunice Schroder

Message from Eunice:

The DIY Rituals show is now available as a podcast. If you click on the "podcast" link below and then click on "Subscribe to Podcast" you will have a link that takes you to the MP3 file (assuming you have some program that plays MP3 files).

Episode #35: December, 2010: DIY Rituals

Anyway, I just listened to it. My part is about 4 minutes worth. It starts 19 minutes into the show. She did a nice job; it's just kinda short. She wanted to get a lot of different rituals into the show.

You can listen to it online.

Note from Kay: DIY is new to me, but I really enjoyed the whole show.
